

What about those who cannot go to university? (Or don't want to!)

Brian Mulligan, Louise O'Gorman, Chloe Cox
Online Learning Innovation

Institute of Technology Sligo, Ireland
WCOL2019, DCU, November 2019

Why might a young person leaving school NOT go to college?

- Disability
- Mental Health
- Carers
- Cost
- Prefer not to

Can existing online education help?

- Mostly designed for adults
 - Upskilling at work
 - To get a job (or a better one)
 - To complete a degree
- Higher levels of self-efficacy /motivation

CLICK HERE TO CONTINUE...

Is there more needed?

- 18 / 19 years old
- Lower levels of self-efficacy / maturity
- Higher proportion of disability
 - Physical, social, mental
- Other responsibilities

Work-based Learning

3 years in the workplace

- 3 days paid per week
- 2 days studying online

More affordable

- Income
- Live at home

Better performance

- In the workplace
- In their studies

- 3 Degree programmes
- Online study (minimal attendance)
- Student not necessarily working
 - But room for “personal” learning
- Enhanced monitoring and intervention (analytics)
- Enhanced supports
 - Disability, other (UDL), career development
- “Community engagement”
 - Locality
 - Interest groups
 - Fellow students
 - The institution
- Includes a research PhD (Chloe Cox)
 - Barriers, belonging, persistence and success
- Project Manager: Louise O'Gorman

HigherEd4All Project

We need your help!

- Previous work done
- Your opinions

Brian Mulligan,
Online Learning Innovation
Centre for Online Learning
Institute of Technology Sligo, Ireland
mulligan.brian@itsligo.ie
bit.ly/brianmulligan